Big Reds "Dress-Up" Homecoming

Everyone gets into dress up days during homecoming week. Students and staff come to school dressed as their favorite personality, country hicks, scary monsters and even "dressed-up" if that's what the theme for the day calls for. It gets hard trying to tell who's who, but that's all part of the fun of homecoming in BIG RED country.

Parade & Games = Homecoming Fun

The Cherokettes and Flags present an interesting silhouette as they lead the Big Red Marching Machine across the Black River in the homecoming parade. Parades and class competition in hamburger eating, tug of wars, three-legged races and balloon tosses make each homecoming a day to remember.

Nine Are Elected To Homecoming Court

In mid-October, ten girls were nominated from each class for the 1978 Homecoming Court. From these forty girls, nine were elected to the Court, two each from the Freshman, Sophomore and Junior classes and three from the Senior class. An all-school election chose the Homecoming Queen from the three Senior finalists.

Half Time Color Makes Homecoming An Event

The Big Red Marching Machine's homecoming half-time show helps to make homecoming an event. The Big Red football victory (21-0) over Central topped off an enjoyable homecoming week.

The highlight of homecoming game festivities is the presentation of the 1978 Homecoming Court (above). Football fans have to wait, however, for the announcement of the Homecoming Queen at the dance the following night. The Marching Machine gathers at mid-field for the "resignation" of Senior members of the band.

So Fine . . . The Class of '79

"We've got spirit We're so fine. We're the class of 79"
This was the cry heard at PHHS for four years. Records honors & recognition to the class of 70 made the "So fine" claim real. This year's Homecoming float fire topped off our four "so fine" years.

Lori also won the long jump with a jump of 16'2". Mariam Boyd played a key roll in the P.H.H.S. track program. In the regional finals Mariam won the two mile (11:00.4) and the one mile (5:17.2). Mariam later broke her own records by running 10:45 in the two mile and 5:13.7 in the one. Sharon McIntyre, Karen Komer, Sharon Washington, Debbie Meisner and Ann Boyd should also be given credit for excellent effort and performances.

Track Team Finishes 2nd In Regional

This year's track team had to race to remain in E.M.L. contention. P.H.H.S. finished the year with a 4-3 E.M.L. record. Tim Roller, Terry Lincoln, Perry Bankston, and Ike Russell, ran the 440 relay, which finished second in the regional meet. The 880 relay team of Mike Johnsick, Tim Roller, Terry Lincoln, and Perry Bankston finished first in the regional meet. Discus thrower Don Piper set a new E.M.L. record of 141'10". Freshman Mike Eastwood set three new P.H.H.S. records in high hurdles at :15.1, 330 low hurdles at :42.6, and high jump at 5'8".

Big Reds End Losing Streak

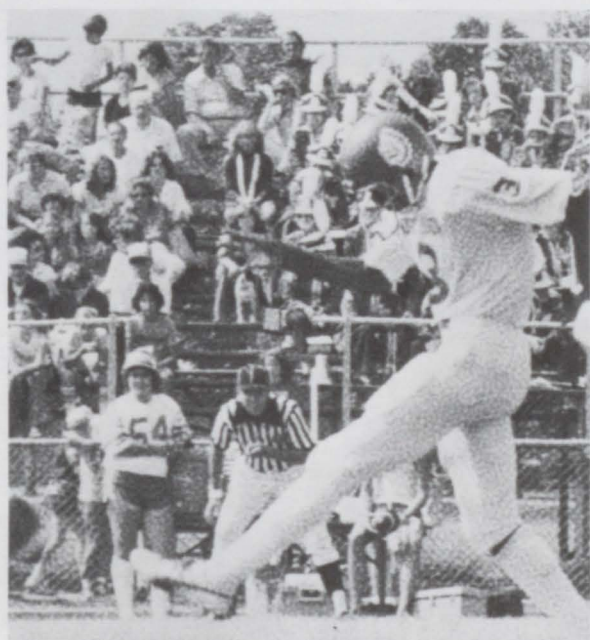

The season opening shut out over L'anse Creuse (21-0) broke the Big Reds 26 game losing streak that had spread over three seasons. Defense was the key in Port Huron's season. The Big Red "Desperado Defense" allowed only 10.6 points per game, but a lack of consistent offense limited PHHS to a 3-6 season. Port Huron's other victories were shut outs against Roseville (20-0) and Port Huron Central (14-0). The Big Reds lose 16 graduating seniors. All-Area players Clarence Edwards and Eric Totten were stand outs in an excellent senior class. With the return of junior offensive stand outs Tom Ceglarek, Steve Sax and sophomore starters Mike Eastwood & Keven Watsen, Coach Semelsberger is optimistic for next year.

Semelsberger Begins New Era At P.H.H.S.

"Where else can you end up with a 3-6 record and be a local hero", was the season ending comment of first year head coach Ken Semelsberger. After a three year drought in football, the Big Reds season opening shut-out victory against L'Anse Creuse (21-0) seemed like winning the state championship. More important than the won-loss record, Semelsberger has reinstalled a winning attitude in Big Red football. He came to Port Huron as one of the most highly touted schoolboy coaches in Southeastern Michigan. His Detroit Servite teams had compiled impressive records in the tough Detroit Catholic school league. Semelsberger had led Servite to league championships and had been honored with several "coach of the year" honors. Semelsberger looks back on a successful building season and looks forward to returning Port Huron High to the outstanding football stature that it has had in the past.

Girls varsity tennis compiled an 8-7 overall record and a 4-7 E.M.L. record. Mary Jo Anter, Kris Cartmell and Chris Crimmins competed for their third year and were the leaders of the squad. Renee Sax, Rene Walsh, Theresa Crimmins, Rocky Ricketts and Kathy Bailey should also receive credit for placing in tournament play.

Varsity Golf

The Big Red Golf team lead by junior Jerry Coleman looks forward to an improved record in 1979 with three of the four low gross golfers returning. The team scored well in every match and was rarely out of a shot for victory; but managed only a season ending win over L'anse Cruse North in a 1-10 season.

Icers Shoot For State Play-Offs

After a season opening tie at Grand Blanc (4-4), the Big Red hockey team was off to a fast 6-1-1 start with a 5-3 loss to Port Huron Northern being the only bad mark given to the icers in their first eight games. The Big Reds avenged Northern's earlier defeat, however, with a satisfying 3-0 shutout over the Huskies.

At press time, Coach Bill Burger was enjoying a 9-4-3 regular season record.

Junior Centerman Tom Sage led the team with 32 points having collected 19 goals and 13 assists. Senior wingman Rob Smith followed Sage in point production with 26, and was the team assist leader with 17 contributions to team mates.

Senior defenseman Gary Temple was the defensive workhorse on the ice with 111 checks and made a substantial offensive contribution with 1 goal and 11 assists.

Captain Jim Bradbury showed consistent leadership on the ice and netted 21 points for the Big Reds, while Junior Centerman Steve Sax showed muscle and scoring punch with 21 points, (13 goals and 8 assists) and 86 checks during the regular season.

Seniors Brad Secory and Brian Caplinger provided consistent net minding for the Big Reds. Secory repeatedly closed the gate against opponents and was instrumental in the Northern shutout. He gained his other shutout against Detroit Catholic Central, and allowed a stingy 2.1 goals per game. Caplinger provided capable goal-tending allowing 4.0 goals per game and gaining a shut-out of his own against St. Clair. Caplinger gained a 4-4 tie against highly rated Wyandotte while Secory was out with mononucleosis. In the Wyandotte game, Caplinger received a rare major penalty requiring penalty box time. Secory quickly dressed and provided 4 shut-out minutes behind the Red Curtain Defense.

They called it "Mean Gene's Shooting Machine." The 1978-79 Big Red basketball team responded to its name and produced the most successful season in twenty-nine years, compiling a 15-8 record while advancing to the regional playoffs in state Class A competition.

Junior John Schock was the teams scoring leader with 324 points. MVP Danny Price provided strong rebounding and was second in scoring. Seniors Demetri McQuiller and Leslie Dupree provided consistent leadership and scoring punch. Dupree's unselfishness resulted in 87 assists.

Price and Schock were rewarded for their outstanding play by being named to the All Area First Team.

The 5-15 record compiled by the Volleyball team doesn't tell the story of the season. Nine of the twenty matches went a full three games with several going into "overtime". Freshman Judy Polechonski led the team with 148 service points, accumulating 24 of those points against P.H. Central. Judy shared MVP honors with senior Mary Jo Anter. Memories Of The Best Year In 25

Close scores, like the 54-54 tie pictured at the upper left, were a way of life for the Big Red Basketball team this year. Gene Bolden's team was rarely out of any game, and as often as not, the gym stayed packed to the final buzzer as the reds provided 32 minutes of heart failure basketball. Pictured on these pages are memories of the best Big Red basketball season in twenty-five years.

Photographic Target . . .

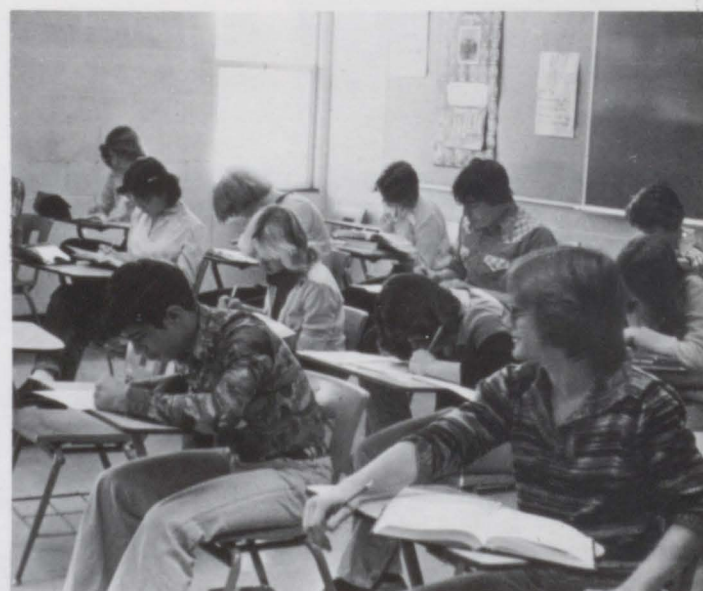

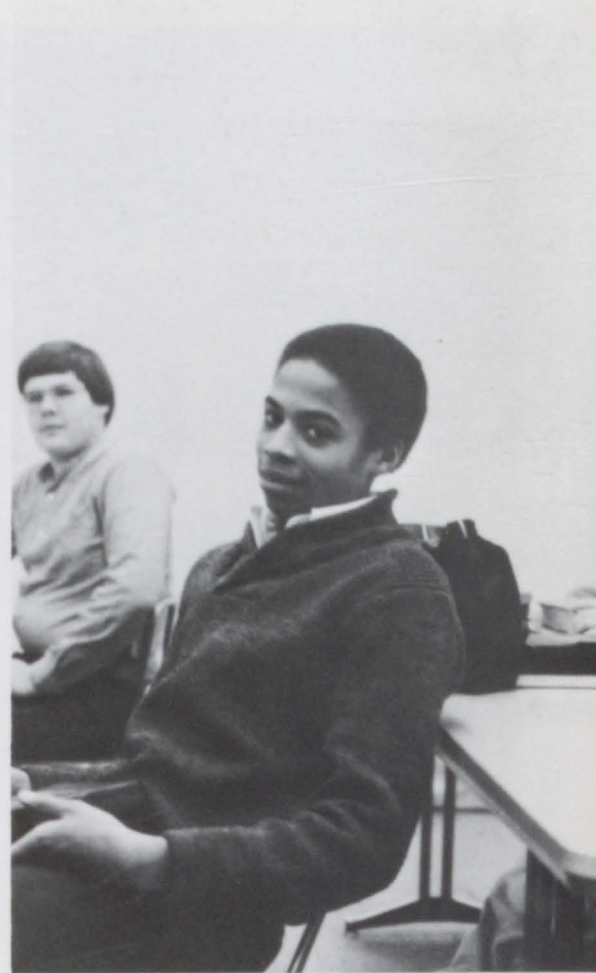

This year's STUDENT photography staff used most of its film budget taking pictures of the cheerleaders. I must admit that P.H.S. cheerleaders are the best in the EML, but our experience with an all-male photography staff has convinced me that equal opportunity will be a must for all future photography staffs.

Henrik Simonsen & Tina Morawa joined the class of '80 as Youth For Understanding (YFU) exchange students for the year.

Henrik is from Denmark and was very active at P.H.H.S. as chief photographer & advertising manager for the Lighthouse and was working with the school play.

Tina is from West Germany. She played in the Marching Machine & worked with a second foreign language for her French.

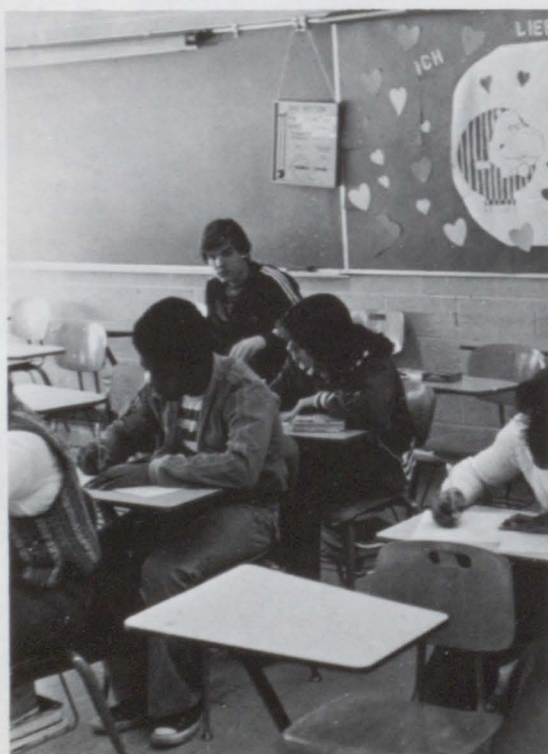

Both enjoyed their year as Big Reds and found school in the United States quite a bit different than school at home.

ACADEMICS

Foreign Language For A Shrinking World

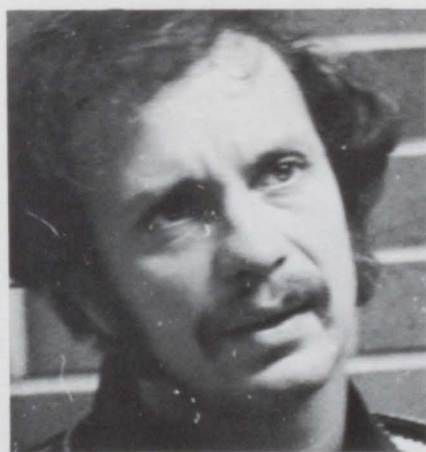

Besides preparation for college, Foreign Language offers students speaking and reading skills that can be used in our shrinking world. Ms. Zuehlke teaches German classes at P.H.H.S. (Top right). German prepares students in a widely used world language as well as one of the key languages used in science and technology. Mr. Owens (center) teaches America's "second language", Spanish. As the United States becomes more bilingual, Spanish will be a valuable asset for students. Mr. Hodge conducts the French program at Port Huron High School. French is the "classic" modern language as well as a source for much of our own language since the Norman invasion of England. Students work diligently in a beginning German class (Lower left).

Counselors Give Advice & Refuge

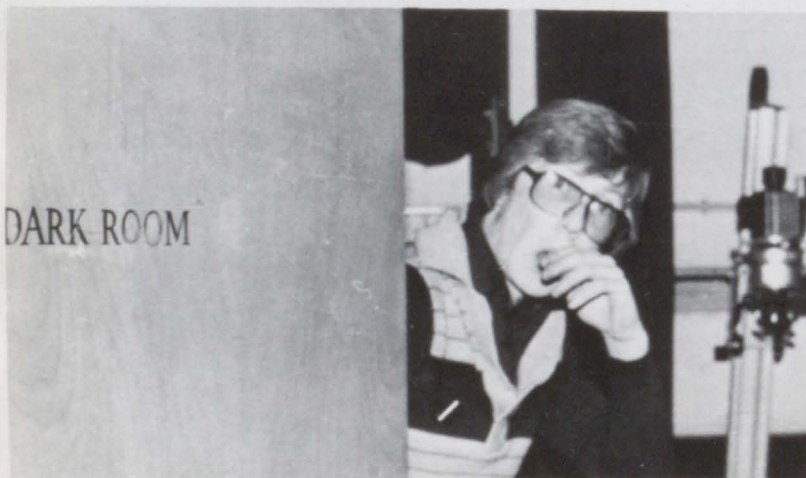

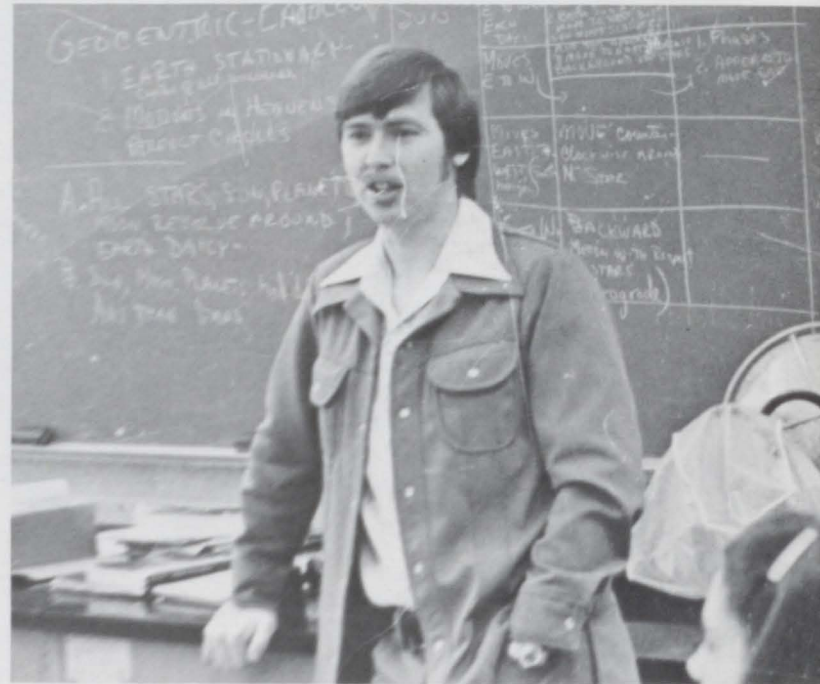

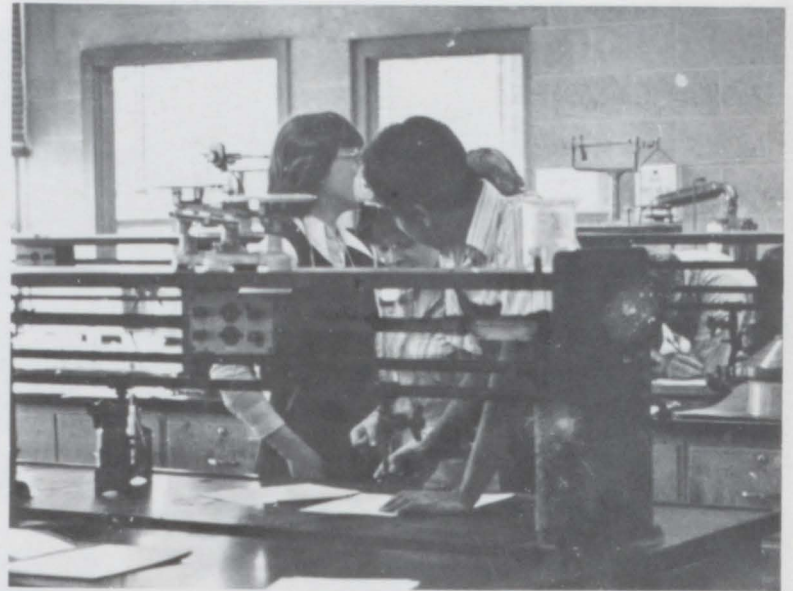

Port Huron High School's counselors do much more than schedule classes. They provide advice on advanced education and employment. They also serve the key role as "go-between" when a student has a problem with teachers, parents, or other students. A familiar scene is students (upper left) waiting to see a counselor, cooling off or taking a short "recess" from a busy school day.

Science Provides A Better Life

Science has put man on the moon, made modern medical miracles possible, given us a more accurate picture of our weather and has provided a "better life through chemistry." In Port Huron High School's science department, students get an opportunity to learn the hows and whys of the world around us as well as learn some of the practical applications of science in electronics classes and photography classes as demonstrated by Dan Lynch (lower left).

Learn To Beat The Computer In Math

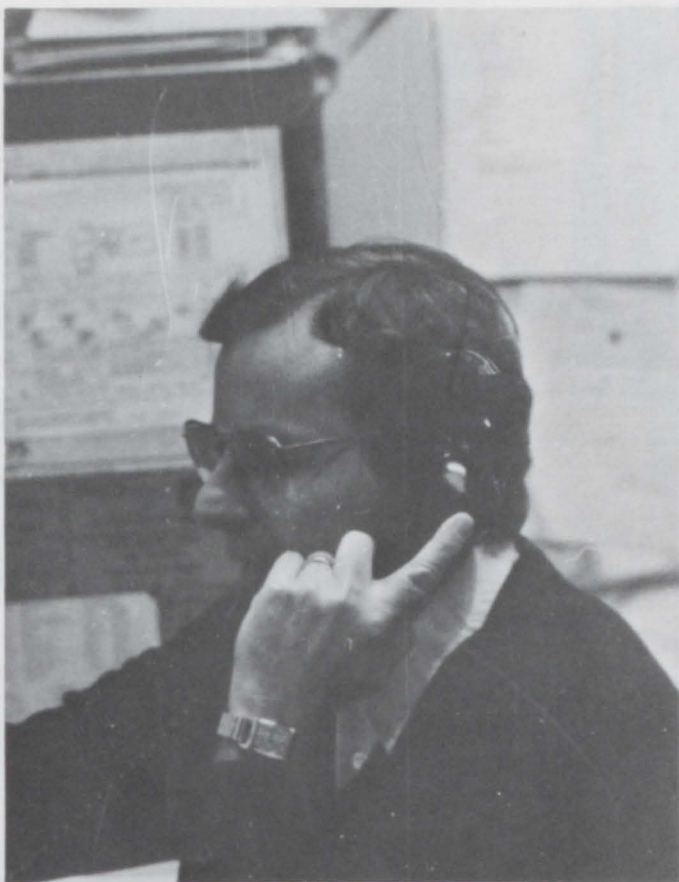

In today's technical society, mathematics is a necessity. Computers speak only in mathematical terms, and computers are a mainstay in our lifestyle. Besides the computer languages of algebra, calculus and trigonometry, the mathematics department offers classes in elementary mathematics so that we all can deal with those basic necessities, the check book and the credit card. Math students also get the basic preparation that they will need for science and manufacturing and drafting classes.

Social Studies Presents . . .

The Past, Present & The Future

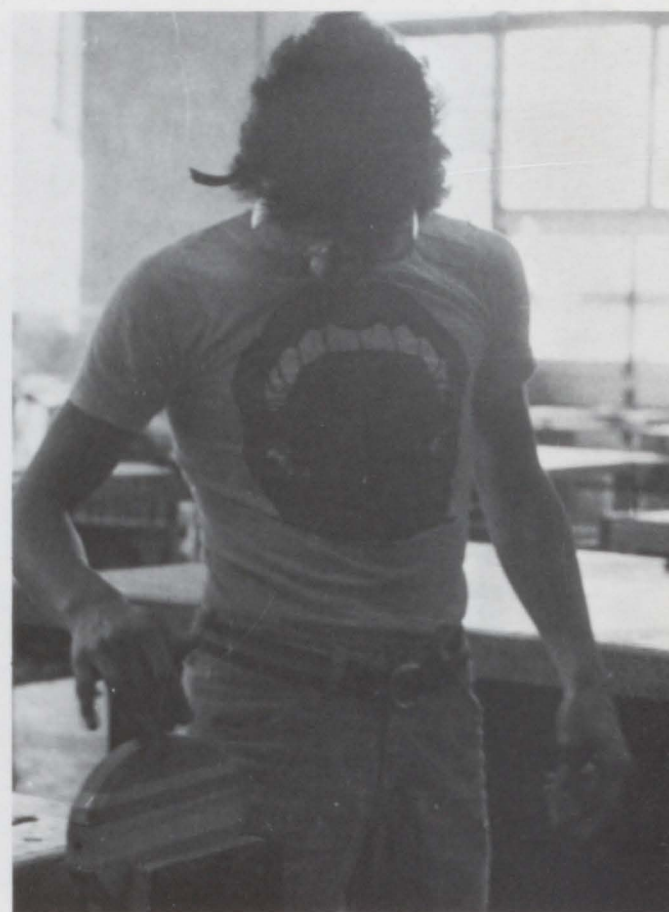

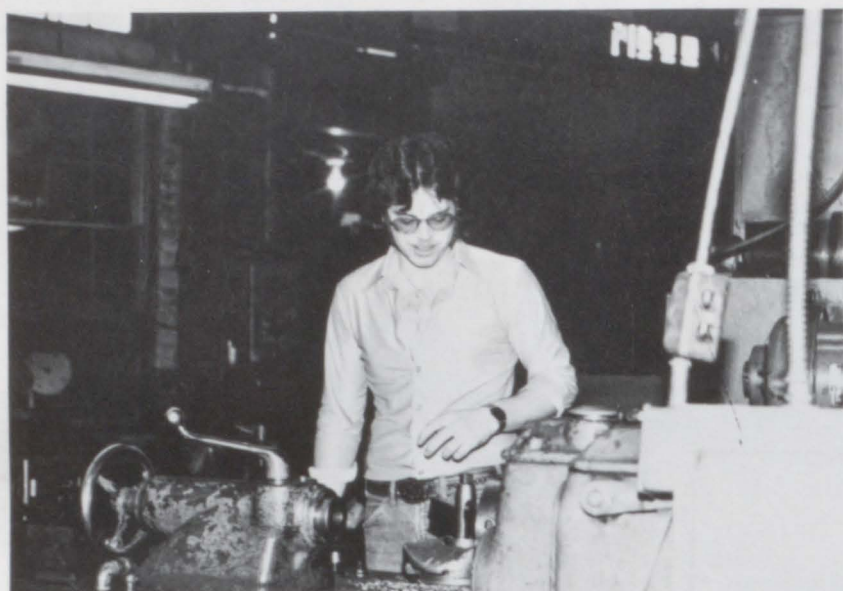

The study of the past in history classes, and the study of the present in civics classes have always been a part of the Social Studies program. But how do you study the future? Under the direction of Dr. Richard Daugherty, a recognized authority on futuristics, the Social Studies department offers a class that studies the future, how to prepare for it and the impact that it is already having on our lives. Dr. Daugherty points out that human technology is progressing at such a rapid rate that unless we prepare for it, it will have passed us before we realize that it is already here.

Social studies offers more than the traditional and the innovative, however; Problems of Democracy (POD) required of every senior for graduation, takes a realistic look at the adult world. Representatives from business, industry, commerce, banking, insurance, medicine, law and law enforcement, the clergy and social services address seniors and take them on a "cradle to grave" look at the world as it is. Students graduate with an understanding of the practical aspects of adult life. Freshmen take a comprehensive look at the structure of federal, state and local government in civics classes as well as learning something about the pitfalls of advertising, the ways of finding a job and how different political systems work.

Social studies students also study psychology, the role of women in today's society and the problems of racism and poverty in the United States.

Preparation For Industry Is The

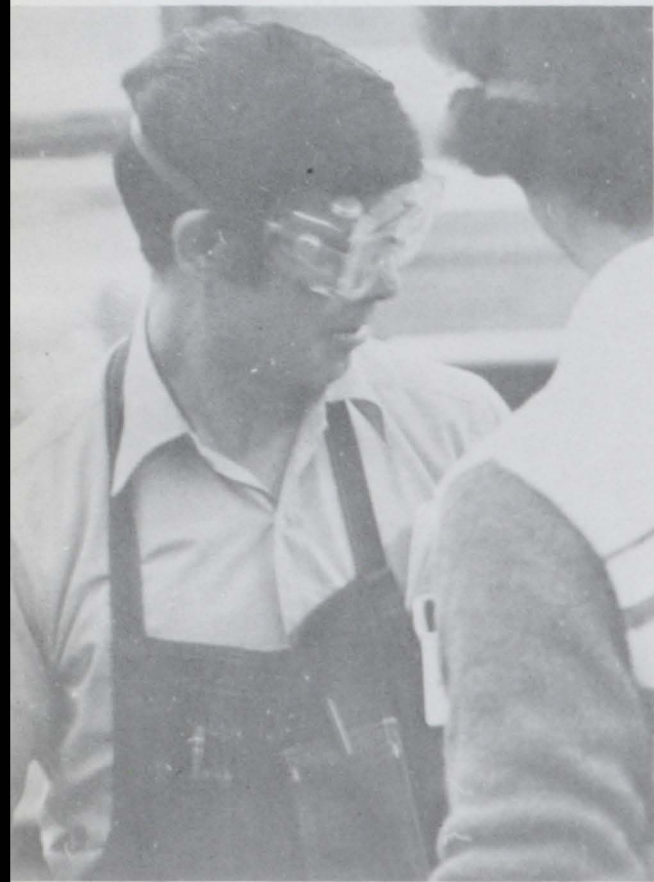

Goal Of Vocational Education

Everybody's parents remember "shop classes". That was where the guys went to make bookcases and lamps. Today's vocational education classes, however, are serious business. Students learn machine trades, metal working, woodworking and carpentry, welding, engine mechanics, drafting and mechanical drawing. All of these skills are presented in an up to date manner so that students are ready to go into industry and manufacturing and begin profitable trades as soon after school as possible. And "shop class" isn't just for the guys. You are as apt to see a girl on a welding rod, at a drafting table, tearing down an engine, or at a metal working machine. Vocational education is a far cry from the shop classes of our parents.

Metal Workers Take A Shot

Each Spring, the metal classes hold a cannon shoot. Students design and took their own cannons for this event. Mr. Bonito (above) teaches woods and metals in the vocational education department.

Machines are used extensively in the reading lab to improve reading skills. Whether wants to improve his reading speed, comprehension or skills, the reading program at P.H.S. is available. Classes are offered in remedial reading and speed reading.

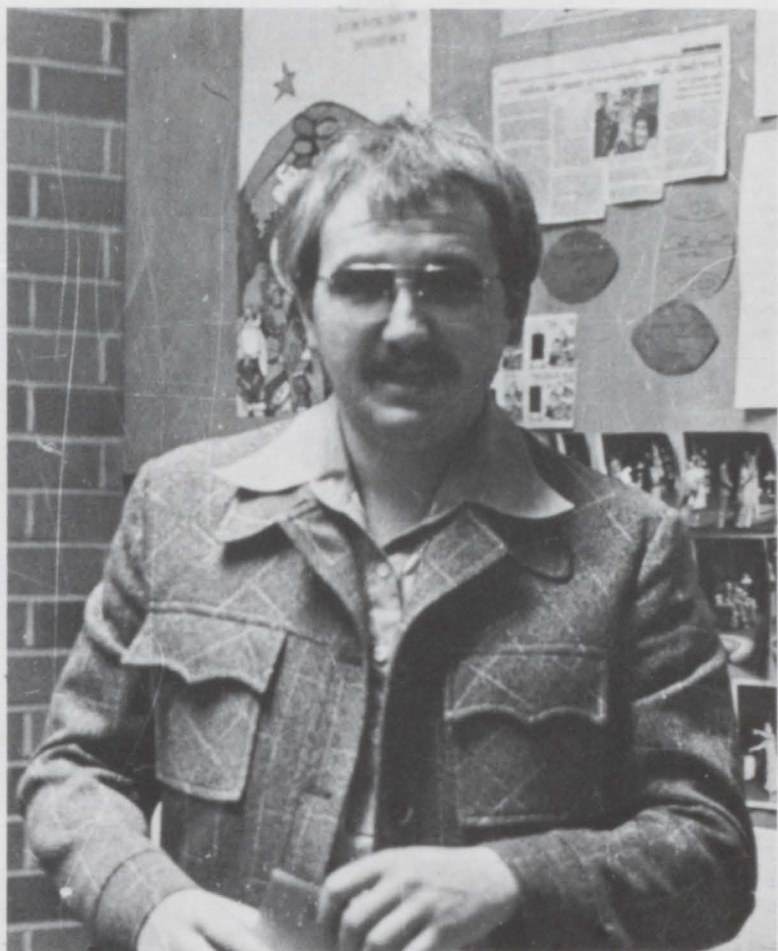

Its All Part Of English . . .

Theater, speech, grammar, literature, journalism, all are part of the program offered by the English department. The program includes more than the traditional reading and writing of years ago. Additionally, special remedial programs in reading help the slower readers to improve his skills and interests. Speedreading is available for those who want to read their daily newspaper in a hurry.

Bookkeeping — Typing — Business

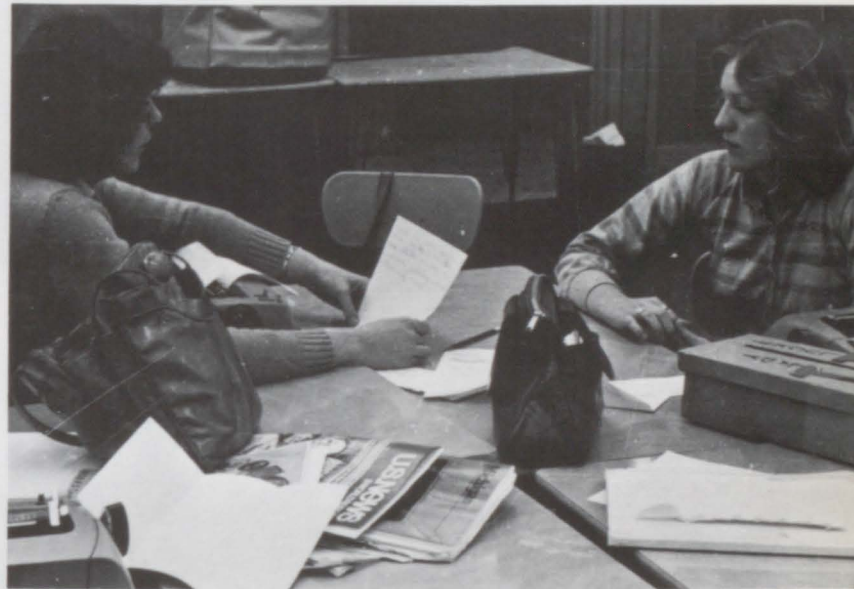

Education Develops Clerical Skills

Business Education offers students courses in several areas of business operation. Clerical students can learn typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, accounting, and general office operations. Students are also offered courses in retailing, marketing, and merchandising.

For those who desire non office related occupations there are opportunities to learn cosmetology and health care through the Skill Center of the Intermediate School District of St. Clair County (ISD)

Learn To Cook Or Sew . . .

Or How To Run A Restaurant Or House

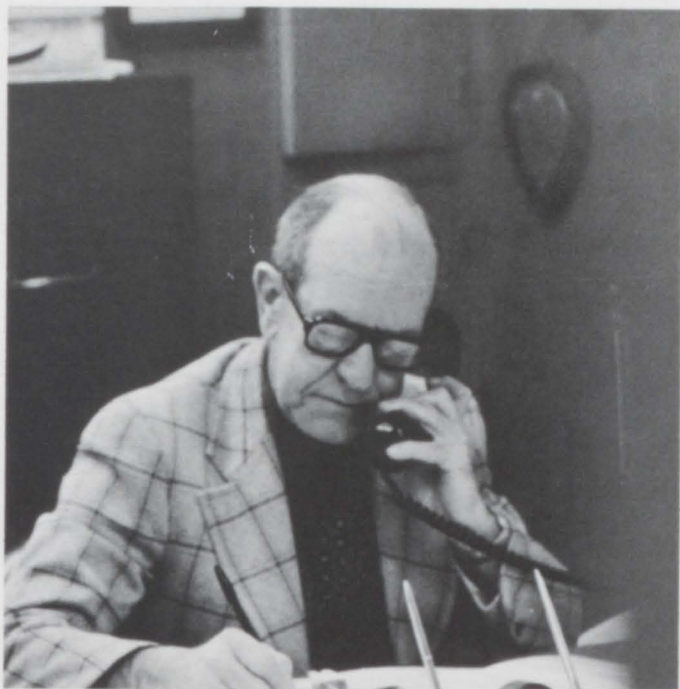

The Home Economics Department offers student courses in clothing and textiles; food and nutrition; child development; housing and home furnishing; and home and family living. Students may take leisure time skills which is a one semester course that teaches students basic leisure activities, such as knitting, crocheting, embroidery, quilting, macrame, rug making, and other needlework activities. Food management is available through the I S D Skill Center and is designed to provide learning experiences in nutrition, meal planing, catering, cooking, gourmet cooking, purchasing, bookkeeping, supervision, meal service, and sanitation.

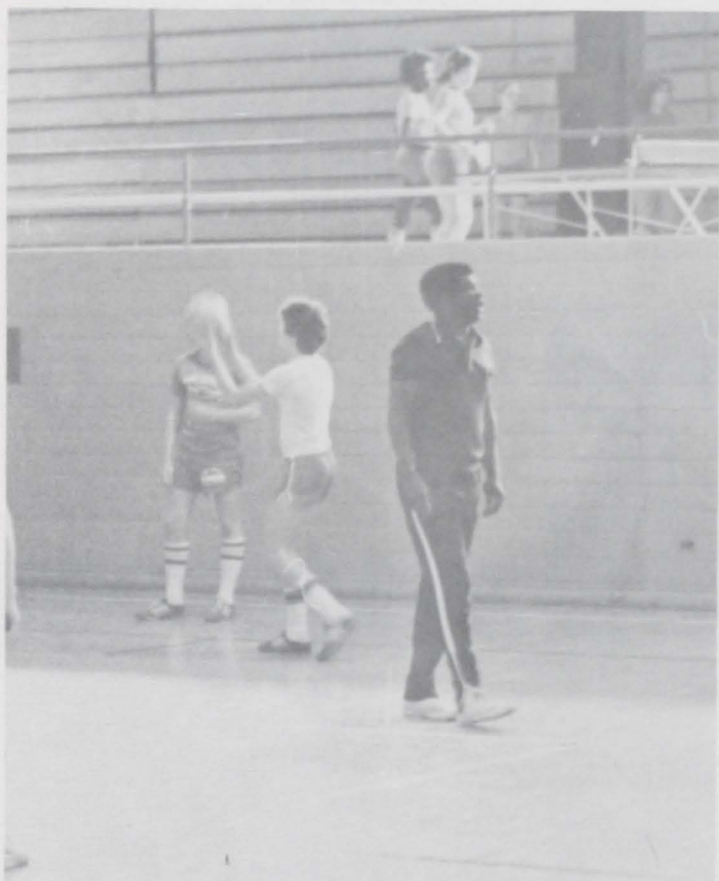

Physical Education . . .

... Lifetime Living Skills

Physical education is more than gym class and ball games. Physical education classes also don't develop the "super athlete". Phys. Ed. classes at Port Huron High School are designed to develop life-time living and leisure skills. As our society becomes more and more automated, we need more experiences that will provide us with leisure time activities that are interesting and wholesome. Exercise programs and ball games are still part of physical education, but leisure activities such as bowling, dance, archery, camping, gymnastics and jogging are included in the program. Popular games such as tennis and golf are also offered to interested students. Mr. Laughlin (above left) department chairman, is kept busy developing a well rounded program as well as serving as athletic director.

Fine Arts Music Painting . . .

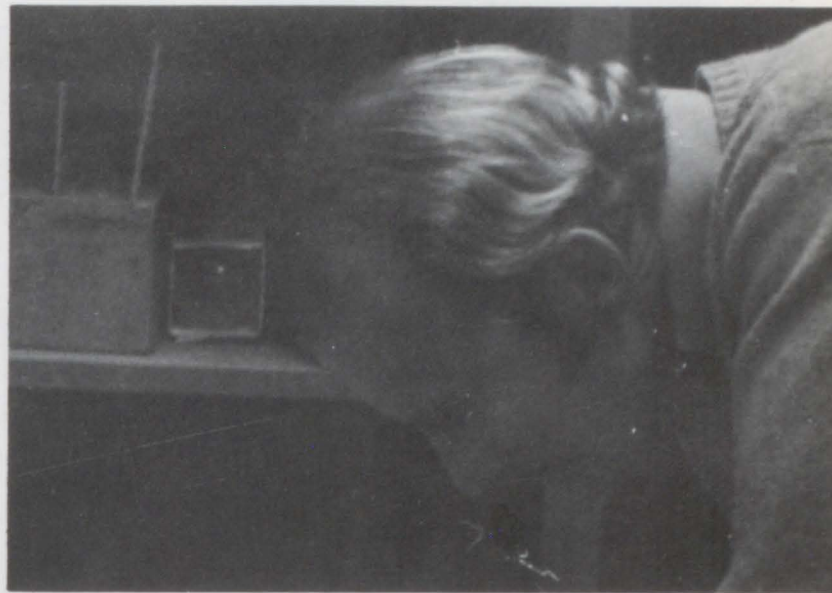

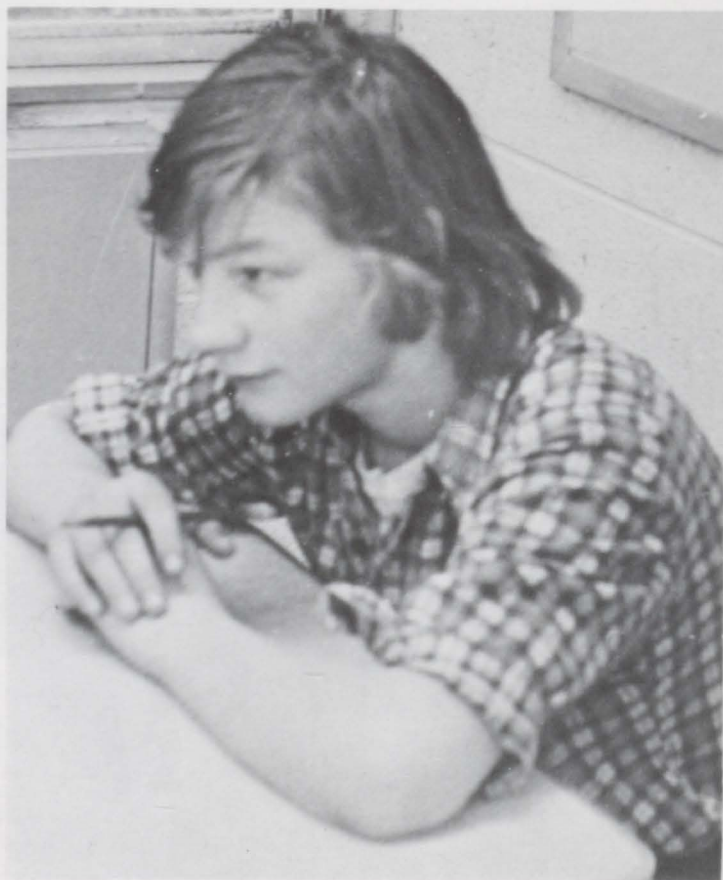

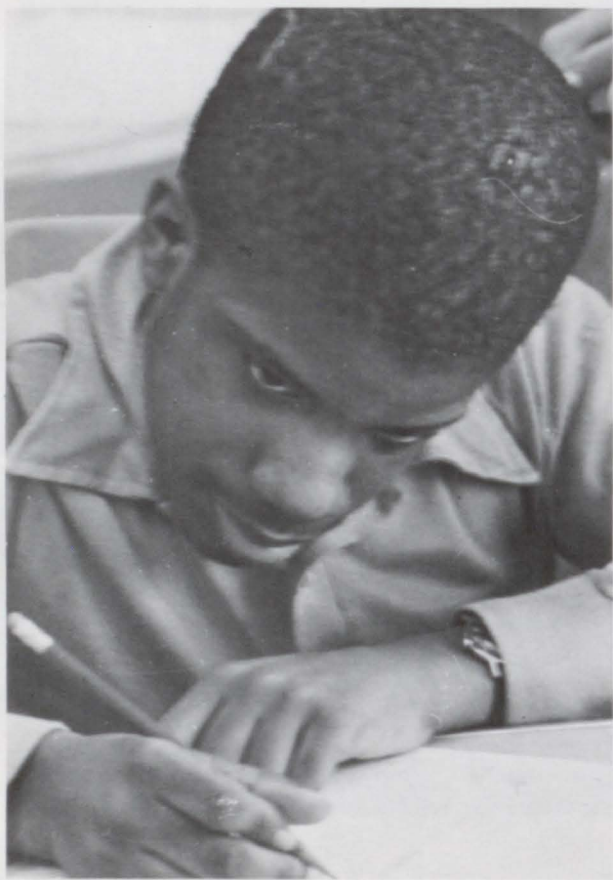

Students taking classes in Fine Arts may learn painting, ceramics, metalsmithing or print making. The visual arts, however, don't enfe the offerings of the Fine Arts department. Port Huron High's outstanding instrumental and vocal music programs are a part of the Fine Arts department. A student does not have to play an instrument or have an outstanding voice to benefit from the music programs for music appreciation is open to any student who wants to learn about music.

The visual arts program of the school is open to beginners through advanced students. General art classes offer students all areas of the visual arts. Specialized classes are offered in ceramics, and pottery and sculpting. Painting and drawing offer students experience in pencil, chalk, charcoal, water and acrylic work. Jewelry making is available in the metalsmithing classes.

... Fine Skills & Appreciation

Special Education Fills Special Needs

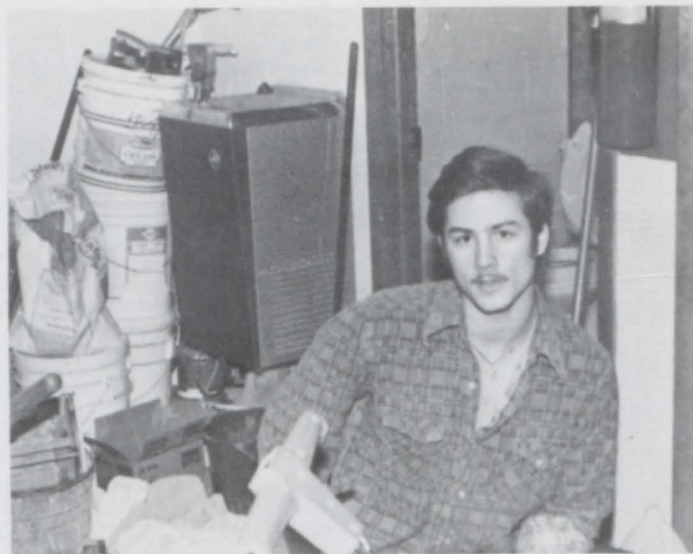

Special Education programs have been a part of the Port Huron High School program for sometime. Special education classes offer programs for students with physical, mental or emotional difficulties. The special needs of these students are met by teachers with specific training designed to serve the students individual special need. During the past year, "mainstreaming" became law and a part of the program at Port Huron High School. "Mainstreaming" allows the special need student to participate in as regular an academic program as possible without being segregated into special classes separate from the regular school program. Thus far, the results of "mainstreaming" have been rewarding as students previously separated from many regular classes prove that they can perform as well as or better than students whose needs are not so "special".

Coop Is For Real

Cooperative Education is an important part of the Business Education and Vocational Education departments. Coop students spend part of each school day in actual work experience. Coop students are paid while learning in their classes. Students work in several area businesses without whose cooperation this valuable program could not exist. Mr. Clair heads up the Marketing and Merchandising program placing students in area retail stores. Mrs. Sue Smith works to place office and clerical students with area businesses where they are exposed to the reality of secretarial and accounting positions. Mr. Murray works with area industry to place vocational education students in positions where they can practice their classroom skills in real work situations.

The Sophomore class elected these four officers at the beginning of the school year. They are, (from L. to R.), Lori French, Sec., Katie McLeod, Vice-Pres., Lary MacDonald, Pres., and Jeannine Gurnsey, Tres. Together they helped promote class spirit, something which the Class of '81' has alot of! They also set up candy sales for the Sophomores to help earn money for the class treasury. This also contributes to class spirit. So when you think Sophomore, think spirit!!

Lighthouse Keeps Big Reds Informed

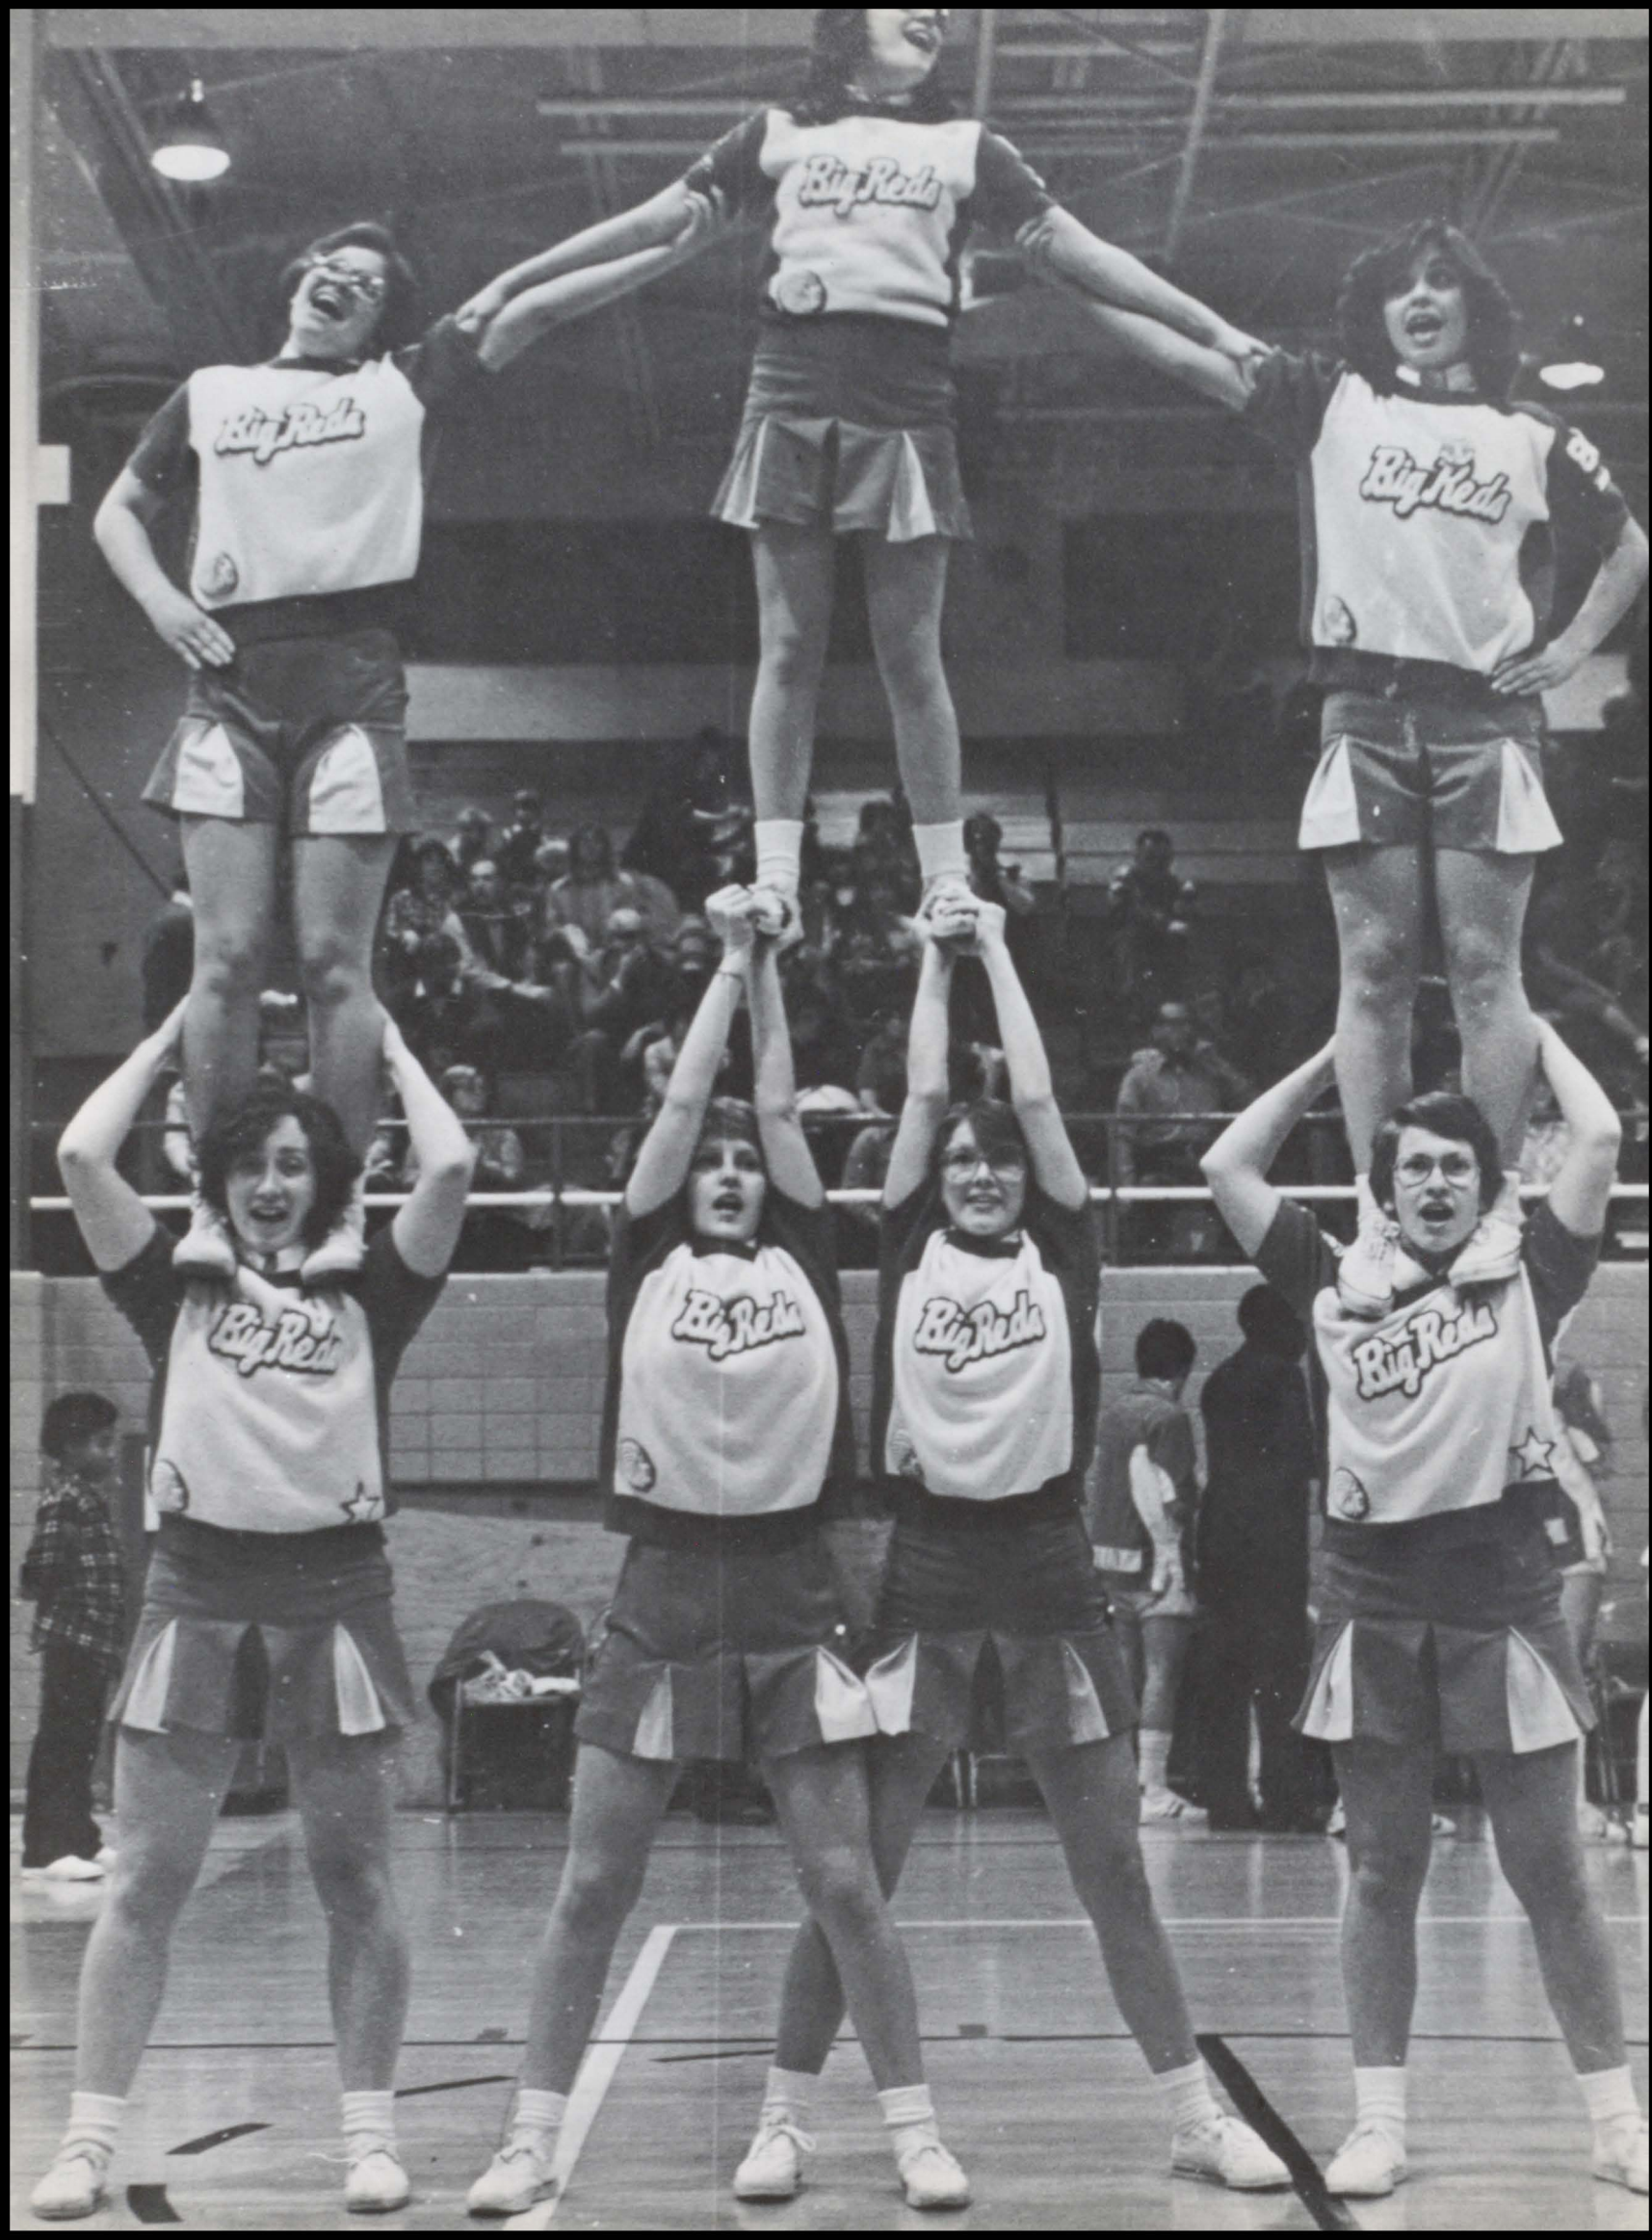

The Lighthouse, the official school newspaper of Port Huron High School, is circulated every three weeks for a total of ten issues per school year. The paper attempts to cover all school activities. The Lighthouse staff is made up of students from the Journalism class, an elective in the English Department. The paper is financed totally through the sale of advertising.

Mike Gofton, the Managing Editor, is responsible for the content of the paper. Gofton was appointed by the advisor, Mr. Mitchell. The rest of the staff positions are appointed by the Managing Editor.

Cheerleaders Rate High In Spirit

Leading cheers at games isn't the only thing the Cheerleaders do. Big Red Cheerleaders spend several hours a week perfecting their routines, and each summer they attend the U.S.C.A. camp at the University of Michigan to work on stunts, mounts and cheers.

This past summer, the Cheerleaders finished 7th over all in competition among the 21 squad attending the USCA camp. In daily competition, Big Red Cheerleaders finished as high as second among the competing squads.

Cheerleaders raise their own money for camp expenses and uniforms through Spirit button, Carnation, candy, key chain, and address book sales.

Practice, camps, and fund raising don't end the cheerleaders' activities. This year the squad has had "pep meals" after the final practice before the big games. The team has made cakes, cookies, posters, and poems for the football and basketball teams. Before the Northern game, the team received a huge cake inscribed with "show the Huskies that losing is a piece of cake." Big Red players responded by playing one of their best games against Northern in recent years.

Big Red Cheerleaders provide the leadership for the great school spirit at P.H.

JV Cheerleaders

The Junior Varsity Cheerleaders provide the cheering and spirit at all JV and Freshmen football and basketball games. The JV cheerleaders also assist the Varsity at varsity games. Student Council . . .

The relaxed looking Student Council members (pictured left) are usually very busy planning an interesting schedule of activities for BIG REDS. The Student Council consists of representatives from all four classes and is under the direction of Mr. Harry Burgess.

Student Council president Mark Moen (pictured standing below) led the Council in planning a variety of activities during the year. The Student Council is responsible for coordinating all assemblies such as the Electric Salt & Light Co. performance (pictured opposite page bottom). The Student Council coordinates all dances and plans homecoming and Spring Fling activities. The Council also conducts the annual magazine sale to help raise money to support student activities. Some Student Council planned activities are pictured on the following pages.
